2023 Australian Dialogue on Bribery and Corruption

Future frontiers in Australian integrity frameworks

18 July 2023

Allens | Sydney

The UN Global Compact Network Australia welcomes you to Australia's annual national multi-sector, multi stakeholder forum dedicated to advancing the Australian anti-bribery and corruption agenda.

The bribery and corruption risk environment continues to evolve for Australian businesses. The last 12 months have seen landmark legislative reforms, while domestic and international examples of corruption continue to highlight areas of Australia's integrity frameworks that can be improved.

Complementing last year's exploration of Navigating the Global Risk Environment, the 2023 Dialogue will turn to home, with a focus on Future frontiers in Australian integrity frameworks. The event will provide an opportunity to hear from leading government agencies, business leaders, non-governmental organisations and academics.

Dialogue sessions will address topics including: the launch of the National Anti-Corruption Commission and its implications for Australian businesses; future developments to integrity frameworks; emerging risks in Australia's economy; and navigating the self-reporting process.

The event will be held under the Chatham House rule.

About the UN Global Compact Network Australia

The UN Global Compact Network Australia (UNGCNA) is the Australian, business-led network of the UN Global Compact. As the principal sustainability initiative in Australia, the UNGCNA brings together participants of the UN Global Compact, including a number of Australia's leading companies, civil society organisations and universities, to advance responsible business and the private sector's contribution to sustainable development.

We lead, enable and connect business and stakeholders to create a sustainable future by acting responsibly and finding opportunity for positive impact. Our activities guide businesses on how a principles-based approach to doing business that advances the Ten Principles and contributes to sustainable development drives long-term business success. We do this by providing a platform for dialogue, learning, influence and action that is practical and leading edge.

The UNGCNA is recognised as a trusted convener and adviser on responsible and sustainable business practices by sustainability practitioners. We provide business with a meeting point to share and build best practice and connect with networks and experts in Australia.

Notes for participants

Engagement: The Dialogue is convened as a safe space for all stakeholders, and participants are asked to adopt an approach of respectful engagement that builds understanding, capacity and cross-sector relationships and collaboration.
